The Late Christmas Edition

Love Came Down

Hello & Welcome to my Christmas Newsletter. Christmas time happens to be my favourite time of the year and I am so excited to share a little bit of the Spirit of the Season with you! Thank you, for subscribing to my monthly newsletter, I know I am very late with this issue but here's praying this late edition will add a final touch of Christmas cheer and happiness to your festive season!

My blog has been running for a month now, and I am very pleased with the progress made thus far. I have already made so many new friends from far and wide and I pray to develop many more friendships and touch many more lives in the time to come.

Christmas to me is a special time to spend with loved ones and make memories for your kids but most importantly, it's a time to celebrate Christ. A time to celebrate when Love came down to save the hurt and lost. I want to use this month's newsletter to bring Christ a little closer to you. I know this part of the year is rather hectic but please grab a cup of coffee and take a few minutes to reflect on who He is to you, this season...

Cheer Up, Buttercup!

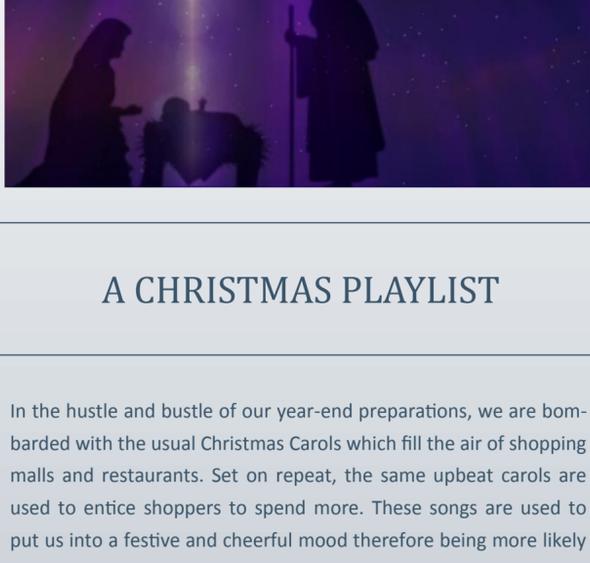

CHEER UP, BUTTERCUP!

Christmas is sometimes a difficult time for some. This post was written for all those who are feeling down this season. Please remember the reason for the season is Jesus. He came into the world, to restore us, He came to give us hope and He came to set us free from the very things which hold us in bondage, like depression, feelings of hopelessness and anxiety. This season, remind yourself of the loving God you serve who is ever willing to lighten your load...

A Christmas Playlist

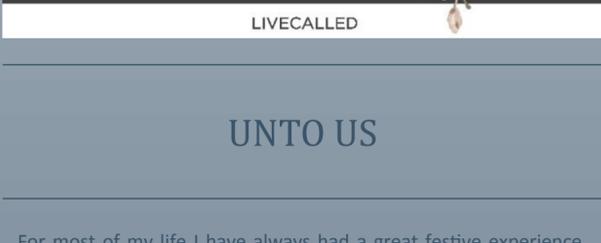

A CHRISTMAS PLAYLIST

In the hustle and bustle of our year-end preparations, we are bombarded with the usual Christmas Carols which fill the air of shopping malls and restaurants. Set on repeat, the same upbeat carols are used to entice shoppers to spend more. These songs are used to put us into a festive and cheerful mood therefore being more likely to part with our hard earned cash and bonuses. I have put together a list of some beautiful praise and worship which do not include the classic shopper Christmas hits. But this playlist is sure to make you feel the presence of Christ through the chaos that surrounds us at this time of the year...

UNTO US

For most of my life I have always had a great festive experience. I've never been one to associate this part of the year with hurt or disappointment of any kind. Thus far I have to admit I have been tremendously blessed. But of late I have been reading of and encountering experiences in my own life which have been deeply troubling, which for me, is foreign especially during the Christmas period. These scriptures have brought and a sense of peace and comfort during these turbulent times. Reminding me that Christmas is more than those picture perfect moments but that Jesus came into a broken world to save the hurt, lost and discouraged...
